

The airwaves belong to the American people, not a single corporate owner with a political axe to grind. The FCC works for me, the American voter, as part of our representative democratic system, not for corporate propagandists hi-jacking our airwaves.

Do your job and yank this piece of blatant Kerry bashing from the air as the unseemly propaganda it is. As Colin Powell's son, show some personal honor, for the conflict of interest you represent in allowing this to air will not be forgotten by this voter and all with whom I speak (and letters to editors I will write).

That this smear campaign can air on some 60 stations in 25% of viewing areas nationwide bares mute testimony to the FCC's all too successful anti-democratic policy of limiting media ownership to a few priveleged insiders.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. Their decision to force their stations to air partisan propaganda days before the election is a clear viloation of this trust.

Do the right thing. Do not cross this rubicon and break faith with the trust we, as Americans, have placed in you as agetkeeper to maintaining unbiased airwaves.

Thank you.
Stephen Derdiarian